THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns d'esprit undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns of phrase undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review

The Fourth Edition

BY S. VINCENT, ESQ.,

Of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

. . . . . "The decisions of the last twenty years have furnished a mass of material which the Editor has endeavoured to treat as concisely as possible, without abandoning the general plan of the Work. But, of course, brevity has not been sought at the expense of the original text. This has a value and an authority which precluded any such treatment, and to preserve it intact, subject only to the introduction of matter arising out of the new decisions, has been the aim of this, as it was of the former Editions."—*Advt. to the Fourth Edition. THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns de force et de vocabulaire undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1880.

THE COUNCIL submit to the Profession the following Report, together with a Financial Statement:—

The Subscriptions for the 1880 Series amounted to the sum of 24,065*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.*, being an increase of 247*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* over the preceding year; the sum of 41*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* was received during the year for the Triennial Digest, published by the Council in 1879; the sum of 4*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* was received in respect of the sale of surplus copies of the Index to the Statutes, purchased from the Government in the year 1878, and the sum of 1303*l.* 16*s.* 4*d.* for sales of the other publications of the Council, published antecedently to 1880. The sum received in the previous year, under the last-mentioned heading, for Reports published previous to 1879, was 1214*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.*, shewing an increase of 89*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.* during 1880, and the share of Advertisements received by the Council was 132*l.* 2*s.*, being an increase of 44*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.* over the same period. The interest from money on investments and deposit was 837*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*, and the increase in the value of investments was 109*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*, making the total of receipts with the increased value of securities for the year 27,495*l.* 14*s.* 6*d.*

With reference to Expenditure the Council, out of the funds at their command, were glad to have the opportunity of presenting a bonus to the gentlemen engaged on the staff; and this, and the salaries paid to them, amounted to the sum of 11,435*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.*; the office expenses amounted to the sum of 200*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.*, and the cost of printing and delivery of the Reports, Statutes, and Index amounted to the sum of 11,264*l.* 15*s.* 1*d.* On an analysis of the cost of printing in comparison with the previous year, it would appear that there was a decrease of 264*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.* in the cost of printing the First, or Chancery Series, and of 100*l.* 8*s.* 8*d.* in respect of the Second Series, or Reports of the Westminster Divisions; while, on the other hand, the cost of printing the Appellate Series shews an increase of 119*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.*

The Statutes cost 38*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.* less than in the former year; and the Indian Appeals 3*l.* 19*s.* 10*d.* more; and the miscellaneous expenses less, by the sum of 74*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.* There was an increase of 8*l.* 1*s.* 4*d.* payable in respect of commission. The total expenses under the head of disbursements amounted to the sum of 22,900*l.* 2*s.* 9*d.*

The surplus revenue for the year was thus 6052*l.* 9*s.* 3*d.* as compared with 4178*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* received in 1879, shewing an increase upon the former year of 1874*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.* This increase arose partly from a decrease of the printing charges, and partly from the increased value of the investments; but this latter cannot properly be treated as revenue. The balance of the revenue account comes out at 13,915*l.* 9*s.* 9*d.*, which includes the sum of 9319*l.* 18*s.*, the balance brought forward from the previous year. The unsold stock of Reports, &c., is valued at cost price at the further sum of 3591*l.* 19*s.* 1*d.*

The Council cannot but feel gratified at the large amount of support which their efforts in behalf of the profession have received, as evidenced by the account submitted, and they have considered in what way a portion of the cash balance in hand might be most advantageously expended in behalf of their subscribers. With this view arrangements were made with the Financial Secretary to the Treasury by which the Council were enabled during the current year to present a copy of the Index to the Statutes down to 1880 inclusive, recently published by the Government, to each of the subscribers to the entire series for 1881. This valuable publication has been enlarged and greatly improved under the directions of the Statute Law Committee, and will be found to be a most useful book of reference to the practitioner.

The Consolidated Digest also, to which reference was made in the Report issued by the Council last year, is still in course of preparation, and the Council hope in a short time to be able to announce to the profession the time of publication, and the terms upon which it will be supplied to subscribers and others. The work will be much more comprehensive than any previous Digest issued by the Council, and will embrace not only all the decisions contained in the LAW REPORTS from 1866 to 1880 inclusive, with many thousands of cross references, but also a summary of all the practically important English Statutes during the same period. The advantage to the profession of having only one Digest to the LAW REPORTS to look into instead of a series will be appreciated. The preparation and completion of so large a work, with proper fulness, skill, and accuracy, must of necessity involve considerable time; but the Council trust that on its completion it will justify the very large expenditure incurred by them in its preparation and production.

The Council think it advisable, in accordance with the Articles of Association, to take advantage of the present prosperous state of their funds to increase their Reserve Fund to 7000*l.*, as a provision against increased charges, losses, and other contingencies.

The accounts have been duly audited and approved.

A vacancy occurred in the Council by the retirement of FREDERICK OUVRY, Esq., one of the Members of the Council of the Incorporated Law Society, which was supplied by the appointment of JOHN HOLLAMS, Esq. The following Members of the Council—Mr. Serjeant SIMON, M.P.; ALFRED WILLS, Esq., Q.C.; J. B. MAULE, Esq. Q.C.; J. A. RUSSELL, Esq., Q.C.; E. E. KAY, Esq., Q.C.; and WM. WILLIAMS, Esq., also retired from office pursuant to a clause in the Articles of Association, but being eligible for re-appointment were re-appointed by their respective societies.

The consolidation of the Common Pleas and Exchequer Divisions with that of the Queen's Bench, and the rules of the Judges consequent thereon, may necessitate some additional expenditure by the Council. At present, however, it is impossible to say whether this will be so, but whatever may be necessary will be done with every regard to efficiency and economy.

The Council desire again to express their thanks to her Majesty's Judges, and the Profession generally, for their kindness and assistance to the Reporters in the performance of their duty.

By Order,
(Signed) JOSEPH BROWN,
Chairman.

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver .... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns d'expression overleaping undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review

THEOBALD'S LAW OF WILLS. A Concise Treatise on the Law of Wills. By H. S. THEOBALD, of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, and Fellow of Wadham College, Oxford.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS ON THE FIRST EDITION.

"Mr. Theobald has certainly given evidence of extensive investigation, conscientious labour, and clear exposition."—Law Magazine.

"We desire to record our decided impression, after a somewhat careful examination, that this is a book of great ability and value. It bears on every page traces of care and sound judgment. It is certain to prove of great practical usefulness, for it supplies a want which was beginning to be distinctly felt."—Solicitors' Journal.

"His arrangement being good, and his statement of the effect of the decisions being clear, his work cannot fail to be of practical utility, and as such we can commend it to the attention of the profession."—Law Times.

"It is remarkably well arranged, and its contents embrace all the principal heads on the subject."—Law Journal.

This day, Third Edition, demy 8vo., price £1 8s. cloth.

POLLOCK'S PRINCIPLES OF CONTRACT. Being a Treatise on the General Principles concerning the Validity of Agreements in the Law of England. Third Edition, Revised and partly Re-written. By FREDERICK POLLOCK, of Lincoln's Inn, Esq., Barrister-at-Law; late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; and Honorary Doctor of Laws in the University of Edinburgh.

"The late Lord Chief Justice of England, in his judgment in Metropolitan Railway Company v. Brogden and others, said, 'The Law is well put by Mr. Frederick Pollock in his very able and learned work on Contracts.'"—The Times.

"For the purposes of the student there is no book equal to Mr. Pollock's."—The Economist.

"He has succeeded in writing a book on Contracts which the working lawyer will find as useful for reference as any of its predecessors, and which at the same time will give the student what he will seek for in vain elsewhere, a complete rationale of the law."—Law Magazine and Review.

"We see nothing to qualify in the praise we bestowed on the first edition. The chapters on unlawful and impossible agreements are models of full and clear treatment."—Solicitors' Journal.

Guide to Stephen's Commentaries.

BEDFORD'S STUDENT'S GUIDE TO THE EIGHTH EDITION OF STEPHEN'S NEW COMMENTARIES ON THE LAWS OF ENGLAND. By EDWARD HENSLOWE BEDFORD, Solicitor, Editor of "The Articled Clerk's Journal," Author of "The Final Examination Digest," &c. &c.

"Here is a book which will be of the greatest service to students. It reduces the 'Commentaries' to the form of question and answer. . . . We must also give the author credit, not only for his selection of questions, but for his answers thereto. These are models of fulness and conciseness, and lucky will be the candidate who can hand in a paper of answers bearing a close resemblance to those in the work before us."—Law Journal.

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

" Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver . . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns φωνᾶντα συνετοῖσιν undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, late French Master, Eton College.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns [illegible] undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.
